[22], 599 p. : col.ill ; 33 cm

This is the fourth edition of IHS Jane's Land Warfare Platforms : System upgrades and the executive overview this year concentrates mainly on the weapons aspect since this is one of the three key elements of an armoured fighting vehicles. A major part for this section is on AFV weapons of 20mm and upwards.

► IHS Jane's land warfare platforms : armoured fighting vehicles 2015-2016 / Christopher F. Foss

Coulsdon : IHS Jane's, IHS Global, 2015-

[26], 1057 p. : ill. (some col.) ; 33 cm.

This is the fourth edition of IHS Jane's Armoured Fighting Vehicles with all of the artillery elements now moving to the new and expanded IHS Jane's Artillery and Air Defence. This is a logical move as in many countries the field artillery and air defence elements are now under one combat arm to provide a complete fire support and air-defence capability for the land component. In some countries these may come under the air force as they also operate the fighters and essential command and control systems that are required to operate an effective air defence system.

The descriptions include: Type; Development; Description; Operational status; Specifications; and Contractors. Also includes: quick reference analysis tables by weapon category; a 'Worldwide In-Service Combat Aircraft' plus a table which indicates the air-launched weapons believed to be cleared for carriage by each combat aircraft and helicopter, listed in order of the countries of the particular aircraft manufacturer; and country by country weapons inventories.

- ▶ IHS Jane's weapons : ammunition 2015-2016 / Anthony G Williams

Coulsdon, UK : Jane's Information Group Ltd., 2015

[22] , 1138 p : col. ill ; 30 cm

Cost saving, consolidation and co-operation were the three key trends in the ammunition industry in 2014. All of these are, in different ways, concerned with saving money. This is of particular importance due to the continuing pressure on defence budgets despite the fact that there is no clear end to the demands being made of the military. Despite the budget pressure, there is still considerable interest in more, costly types of ammunition, guided mortar and artillery rounds, because of the substantial benefits.
